6) Results and planned changes

I created an interactive prototype in adobe XD. Thanks of that I could make a visualisation on my future website. Next step is to create some hyperlinks in text structure, which will result better and intutive navigation inside webside.

Adding to that I would like to create some example buttons which will be that hyperlinks to another articles on website.

I also want to continous improvment of design identification, make colours and structure more consistent and logic.
